

Ellucian Degree Works™ Transfer Equivalency

For a more streamlined, transparent transfer articulation process

When the transfer process goes smoothly, everybody wins. That's why Ellucian Degree Works™ Transfer Equivalency offers institutions an easy-to-use administrative tool for mapping courses and processing transcripts. It also includes a self-service tool for transfer students that clearly shows them where they stand in meeting course and degree requirements.

Articulation, course mapping, and more

The Transfer Equivalency module helps you articulate transfer classes and manage transfer agreements and ad hoc mappings. You can use this web-based tool to:

- Define articulation agreements
- Process transfer transcripts
- Articulate classes
- Display audits

Course mappings can be entered into Transfer Equivalency's administrative tool or imported automatically from your student information system. The course-mapping capability also includes dependency features, allowing mapping rules to be qualified by one or more conditions (e.g., Course A at your institution is equal to Course A23 at another institution only if the student is a math major).

"Our advising appointments are greatly enhanced with degree audits. Our staff now have better tools for conversations with students about their transfer options."

Empower your transfer students

With course maps in place, students can then use Transfer Equivalency to learn which of their credits will transfer. The module provides a preliminary, unofficial assessment, then directs students to speak to a transfer evaluator for official transfer and articulation results.

Increased transparency saves time and money

With Transfer Equivalency, both your prospects and your enrollment bottom line can benefit.

Prospective students won't have to wait weeks or months to learn whether their credits transfer to your institution. Instead, by using Transfer Equivalency's self-service feature, they can log on at any time to determine how their current coursework aligns with your requirements—and they can save their entries when they're done. With this critical information in hand, they can also avoid wasting precious time and money on unnecessary courses.

Meanwhile, by offering greater access and transparency, you'll remove some of the biggest administrative barriers that can delay communication and deter your transfer prospects—a group that's already often hard to recruit and cultivate. With Transfer Equivalency, you can present an appealing application gateway to this key population.
